October Newsletter

September has flown by and I'm really pleased with how the children have settled back into school. They are all enjoying their new topics and lots of hard work is going on in all of the classrooms.

In October, I plan to send home a weekly newsletter and would welcome feedback as to whether you prefer more regular newsletters in this way. I hope that this will offer an opportunity to share with you more often some of the great things which are taking place in school.

Athlete Visit

On Friday 28th September, local athlete and weightlifter, Jennifer Tong visited the school. The children received an inspirational assembly and also a fantastic opportunity to take part in a fitness session with her. Jennifer was absolutely fantastic and the feedback from all of the children was amazing. I have spoken with Jennifer and she has agreed to return to the school once she has competed in the European Championships.

Thank you for all of your kind sponsorship, it will really make a difference.

Reading Workshops

Last month we began our Reading Workshops and I hope that for everyone who attended this gave you useful support in helping your child to read at home. On October 2nd, we have our final session for Year 5 and 6, so we hope to see as many of you there as possible.

If you were unable to make the meeting, but would like to receive more information, please pop and see Mrs Sykes and she will be please to provide this.

All the help you can give us with home reading is greatly received and every time the children read, they will receive another stick on their Reading Rocket.

Harvest Assembly

By the time you are reading this newsletter the local vicar will have held our annual Harvest assembly. This year we have chosen to support a local foodbank and the RSPCA. Donations of food are welcome until Friday when the School Council will deliver it on your behalf.

Thank you.

Learning Zone

Within school we have transformed one of our learning spaces in to an exciting Learning Zone.

This space will be used to allow children to take their learning further and explore and create with greater independence.
